

Worth Careful Thought

Do you read the label to know whether your baking powder is made from cream of tartar or, on the other hand, from alum or phosphate?

Royal Baking Powder is made from cream of tartar, derived from grapes, and adds to the food only wholesome qualities.

Other baking powders contain alum or phosphate, both of mineral origin, and used as substitutes for cream of tartar because of their cheapness.

Never sacrifice quality and healthfulness for low price.

What Prohibition Did

Miss Ida Markham, city clerk of Visalia, California, is authority for the following, which was published in the Bakersfield Echo.

Miss Markham says: "The tax rate for each $100 in Visalia for the past eight years has been:

1908	$2.00
1909	1.50
1910	1.70
1911	1.60

These were under the wet regime and the average for those four years is $1.70.

The saloons were voted out in 1911, and the loss in license money per year was $7,500. The rate for the next four years follow:

1912	$1.55
1913	1.47
1914	1.44
1915	1.88

These were under the dry regime and the average is $1.57 per year.

During the year of 1915 improvements were voted as follows:

Fire apparatus	$12,500
Sewers	65,000
Auditorium	50,000

These make a total bond issue of $127,500 which accounts for the big jump in our tax rate for the past year.

Visalia has made more improvements during the past four years than it made in the twenty years preceding.

The Farmer's Creed

(By Henry Ward Beecher)

I believe that soil likes to eat as well as its owner, and ought, therefore, to be liberally fed.

I believe in large crops which leave the land better than they found it—making the farmer and the farm both glad at once.

I believe in going to the bottom of things and, therefore, in deep ploughing and enough of it. All the better with a subsoil plow.

I believe that every farm should own a good farmer.

I believe that the best fertilizer for a soil is any spirit of industry, enterprise and intelligence. Without this lime and gypsum, bones and green manure, marl and guano will be of little use.

I believe in good fences, good barns, good farmhouses, good stock, good orchards, and children enough to gather the fruit.

I believe in a clean kitchen, a neat wife in it, a spinning-wheel, a clean cupboard, a clean dairy and a clean conscience.

The Call of the Telephone

A man who was kept at home a week by an attack of grip, remarked on his return to work, that he had been amazed by the part the telephone was playing in his family life. It was his estimate that the bell rang three times an hour on an average, from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m.

He believed the conversations over the wire averaged at least five minutes apiece. He figured 40 conversations during the day, totalling over three hours of time. His wife at times became desperate, and begged him to intercept the pestiferous calls. Yet the vivacity with which she conversed over the wire suggested that the interruptions were not wholly unwelcome.

Much of this conversation seemed to be merely social "visiting." Some of it of course represented consultations over the work of church and other organizations, while some of it was the ord'ring of household supplies.

The severe philosopher will say that the modern woman is wasting a lot of time over the telephone which interferes with performance of the housewifely task in which a former generation used to excel. Probably there are cases where this criticism is correct. It is so very easy for any one and every one to gain access to the homes and time of other people merely by ringing up Central. People who would never think of calling in person will call by wire, and women with social natures find it difficult to resist the invitation to aimless gossip.

There is much to be said on the other side though, of the service the telephone renders in breaking the isolation of women's lives. It used to be stated that many farmers' wives went crazy, by reason of the loneliness of their lives. No need for that now, with the telephone making possible social visiting for ten hours a day, and if the lonely person can't think of anything to say, she can pull down the receiver and hear what the neighbors are saying. It is not surprising that it is almost impossible for the men to get the rural lines to close up business deals, at any time except when the house wives are preparing meals.

In town life the telephone facilitates marvellously the work of the many organizations through which women perform so efficiently their civic and philanthropic tasks. Many a woman is kept from becoming morbid by the constant contact she now gets with the life of other, once isolated women about her.

Venus, the Brilliant

Venus, now so brilliant, hanging over the West Mountain, is seen almost as soon as the sun sets. It is because Venus is nearer the earth than any other planet that makes it appear so brilliant. As I have said, Venus, like the other planets, is dark, and light only by reflecting back the light and heat from the sun. As an example, Julia McNair Wright says: "Take a new tin plate; it has no light in itself; shut it in a dark room, it gives out no light, but hold it where a broad ray of sunshine strikes it, and at once the light is reflected back from the tin with such burning splendor that the eyes can scarcely look upon it; so will windows struck by the light of the setting sun, at once blaze forth like fires." Venus is 69,000,000 miles from the sun, and when nearest us 26,000,000 miles from the earth. Next to the moon our nearest neighbor is the sky. The moon is distant from the earth 238,800 miles. We call Venus "star of the evening, evening star," but, as I have said, Venus is a planet, and not a star, though we shall yield to popular usage. She is the first star to shine forth in the evening and the last one to fade away in the morning. The dazzling light of Venus is caused by dense layers of clouds, which are admirable reflectors of the sun's rays. The day of Venus is about half an hour shorter than our own; its year 224 days. Flammurion tells us that mountains, much higher than any on our earth, have been measured on the planet Venus. The changes of temperature are very sudden, though its winter is too short to accumulate ice at her poles, like our earth. The actual diameter of Venus is 7,700 miles, that of the earth about 8,000 miles.

Tree Planting Stock at Cost

Now is the time to plant up that rocky, run-down land and make it valuable.

Three year old White pine transplants can be obtained for planting waste lands and abandoned fields, at the very low price of $5.25 per 1000.

This gives an opportunity for farmers and others who are interested in forest planting in connection with their spring work, to secure well grown, healthy stock, true to name, and properly acclimated, at a very nominal figure. The idea is to encourage planting by the individual owner, and particularly the small owner who does not wish to go to the trouble and expense of bringing in planting stock from commercial dealers in sufficiently large quantities to get the best price.

At this price, with packing charges and delivery, the stock will cost the purchaser from $5.50 to $6.00 delivered at the planting site. About 1250 plants per acre should be ordered. This will allow a spacing of 6 by 6 feet, which is the best distance for this species. This will make the total cost for plants about $7.00 per acre. The cost of setting should not be more than $3.00 per acre on average farm sites.

A limited amount of this stock is now available for planting in the spring of 1916, and more will be on hand for 1917 planting.

On account of the low price at which this stock is sold, the following conditions are made a part of the purchase contract:

1. The trees purchased shall be used only for the purpose of planting lands in the State of Maine.
 2. The trees shall not be resold or offered for sale before being planted by the purchaser or his agents.
 3. The trees shall be properly planted with due care not to allow the drying out of the roots.
 4. Reports shall be furnished when requested, upon the condition and growth of the plantations.
 5. Cash, check or money order for the full amount of the purchase accompany the order, or be collected on delivery.
- (The necessity for the last requirement will be fully understood, when it is realized that this is not a money making transaction, and that no funds are provided for book-keeping or the running of accounts.)

The Forest Nursery was established three years ago, in connection with the Forestry Department of the College of Agriculture of the University of Maine. The purpose was twofold: To provide good planting stock of commercial species to prospective forest planters in Maine, at actual cost of production; and to provide practical experience in nursery work for students taking a professional course in forestry.

Advertising Raised the British Army

In the March American Magazine is an account of Hedley Francis Le Bas who was employed by the British Government to raise an army by advertising. He did it—at 57 per cent of the former cost of getting recruits. He also conducted the advertising campaign by which a $3,000,000,000 loan was placed.

"Mr. Le Bas made his ads for soldiers interesting, just as he would have done for purchasers of tea, soap or tobacco. He formed a committee of the leading ad writers in the country and their posters have filled the gaps on the fighting line for over a year. When the loan of $3,000,000,000 was required by the government Mr. Le Bas was once more pressed into service and the three billion was oversubscribed at the end of two weeks.

"Through these revolutionary successes of Mr. Le Bas the British Government has had good cause to endorse the business of advertising.

Hedley Francis Le Bas is a genial gentleman of about fifty-five, an old-fashioned man himself, and the son of Captain Le Bas of Jersey. He is the founder and head of the Caxton Publishing Company. He is also a director of George Newnes, Ltd. and C. Arthur Pearson, Ltd., two of the largest magazine publishers in Great Britain.

Last, but by no means least, Mr. Le Bas is the honored possessor of a medal awarded him by the Royal Humane Society for saving the lives of two women two years ago."

New Episcopal Bishop

Rev. Benjamin Brewster, D. D., who was elected bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Maine, and accepted, is looked upon as a man peculiarly fitted for the office to which he was chosen. It is thought that in a very peculiar sense he possesses qualifications that will make his services in the diocese a great success, his experience as missionary bishop of Western Colorado for the past nine years having given him an insight and capacity for the promotion of the church extension work in the diocese, while his position as a conservative, as contrasted with extreme churchman is favorably looked upon by those generally familiar with his position.

The bishop comes of old New England stock, in fact of Mayflower ancestry. He is a native of Connecticut, his birth taking place in New Haven, Nov. 25, 1860. He is the son of Rev. Joseph and Sarah Jane (Bunce) Brewster, his father being a clergyman of more or less prominence in the Connecticut diocese for several years, and for 28 years rector of Christ Church, New Haven. Rt. Rev. Chauncey Bruce Brewster, D. D., bishop of the diocese of Connecticut, is a brother of the bishop-elect and another brother is James Henry Brewster, of Boulder, Colo., a noted lawyer, lecturer and author. The family are lineal descendants of Elder William Brewster of the Mayflower and Plymouth colony.

Bishop Brewster has the name of being very decided in his convictions, simple and democratic in his personality, and an earnest worker in certain reform movements. In the recent labor troubles in the Colorado Coal and Fuel Company's mines, he took a decided position, expressing sympathy with the striking miners. He is an untiring worker, and is popular as a public speaker, possessed of a sense of humor which has been a contributing element to his general popularity. During his residence in Colorado he was made a life member of the Elks, and is also a member of the Royal Arcanum.

The marriage of Bishop Brewster to Miss Stella Yates, daughter of the late Gen. Charles Yates of New York City, took place June 10, 1891. They have four children.

Appreciation

is a mental recognition of value, and is a reflected admiration of beauty or merit which precedes possession.

As only an artist can appreciate art and a musician music, so motor-car values only can be appreciated by those who, in motor cars, buy only world achievements.

The casual onlooker may admire a motor car, but appreciation in its finality is purchase-admiration measured in gold and silver by the man to whom motor-car perfection is a habit in his big car buying.

Scripps-Booth

luxurious light-weight cars are driven almost exclusively by owners of experienced motor-car judgment. These owners are the most appreciative of Scripps-Booth design and performance, and are widely responsible—through their enthusiasm concerning the car—for its remarkable sales in the most exclusive circles.

Scripps-Booth cars will win your appreciation when but given an opportunity through our nearest sales representative.

OLDER BUT STRONGER

To be healthy at seventy, prepare at sixty, is sound advice, because in the strength of middle life we too often forget that neglected colds, or careless treatment of slight aches and pains, simply undermine strength and bring chronic weakness for later years.

To be stronger when older, keep your blood pure and rich and active with the strength-building and blood-nourishing properties of Scott's Emulsion, which is a tonic and a medicine to keep your blood rich, alleviate rheumatism and cure weakness. No alcohol in Scott's.

How to Fight Tuberculosis

In a paper read last year before the Texas County Medical Society and published in part in the Louisville "Medical Progress," Dr. J. W. Carhart, of San Antonio, Texas, a physician who has devoted much time to the study of tuberculosis, said: "Since time immemorial three-fourths of all the mineral substances of the human body, they must be supplied in the foods or supplemented by mineral preparations, or natural starvation ensues with tuberculosis unchecked. The widespread and unchecked spread of tuberculosis and other preventable diseases is due largely to the lack of calcium (lime lacking) conditions of mind and body throughout the civilized world."

Thus from another authoritative medical source comes justification for the use of lime in the treatment of tuberculosis.

Since this is one of the ingredients of Beckman's Alternative, much of the success attending the widespread use of this remedy doubtless is due to the combination of this salt in such a way as to render it easily assimilated, and since it contains neither opiates, narcotics nor habit-forming drugs, it is safe to try.

Beckman's Alternative has effected remarkable results in numerous cases of pulmonary tuberculosis (consumption) and allied chronic affections of the throat and bronchial tubes. In many instances such patients, apparently, have yielded completely to it.

It is a fact that a chemist is out of it, and it is sent direct to the

The Drug, Caffeine, In Coffee Is A Habit-Forming Agent

Bulletin 393, U. S. Department of Agriculture, entitled "Habit-Forming Agents," referring to caffeine and other ingredients used in the manufacture of certain soft drinks, headache mixtures, etc., says:

"Until recently it was claimed by some that these agents were harmless and did not belong to the habit-forming group. Later investigations, however, clearly show that this position is unwarranted."

The average cup of coffee contains about 2½ grains of caffeine. Mothers give it to their children and wives give it to their husbands—unconscious of harm coffee does to health.

When the nerves cry out, or indigestion, biliousness, headache or heart flutter begin to trouble, it's time to look to the cause.

An easy, sure way out of coffee troubles is to quit the coffee, and use

—the pure cereal food-drink

There are two forms of Postum. The original Postum Cereal must be boiled. Instant Postum is quickly soluble in hot water, more convenient to prepare, and has the same rich flavor as the original Postum. Some prefer one form, some the other; both are free from the habit-forming drug, caffeine, or any other harmful substance, and the cost per cup is about the same.

The Produce News says: Receipts are more moderate and yard accumulations have been fairly well cleaned up. Early in the week trade was interfered with by severe weather, which prevented a free movement of stock, but the market held firm on strong country advices. About 100 carloads were in the Harlow yard Monday, but later receipts were not heavy. Some holders stored potatoes rather than sell at prevailing prices. The quality is good, except for some frozen potatoes. The demand is much complained of as being disappointing, due, it is believed, to high prices. But the clean-up of accumulations has left the trade in better position and the general feeling is that the market will at least rule steady.

Feats in magic, Prof. B. C. Roberts. Comedy, singing and talking act, Booth and Villard, "Just Arguing," Luther and Towle. These acts were special acts arranged especially for the occasion and were much enjoyed by all.

The success of the days enjoyment was due to the untiring work of the committee, who had charge of all arrangements and it was the most successful session ever held by the Lodge.

Ice Racing

The best ever! was the verdict after the racing, Friday afternoon, with a record breaking crowd attending to witness the sport.

Besides the 3 class events the long looked for matched race, between A. E. Mooers' speedy little mare, Minnehaha, and the Indiana flyer, Nomis, owned by local parties and handled by Billy McManemon. This race went the limit, Minnehaha getting the first two heats and Nomis the 3d and 4th in record time. The fifth heat went to the Mooers' mare and by the result an argument of long standing is settled for a time at least.

There was one point however, that everybody agreed upon, that Nomis' time of 30.1-2-30.1-4 sec. for a trotter, was "going some."

Town Meeting

The annual Town Meeting will be held in the auditorium of the High School building on School street next Monday morning at nine o'clock. Besides the business of appropriations for the year there will be an election of officers.

As far as the TIMES can learn there are three candidates for First Selectman: The present incumbent, E. A. Peabody, Fred N. Vose, and Herschel Shaw. For Second Selectman: The present incumbent, Geo. W. Small, and Ralph Hackett. For Third Selectman: Howard Webb, W. H. McGary, it is understood, will be a candidate for this position.

For Town Treasurer, the present incumbent, O. M. Smith and Robert Lawlis.

For the other positions the present officers are candidates for reelection without opposition.

It is the duty of every voter to vote for the man whom he thinks will administer the affairs of the town in the best businesslike manner, the man who has shown his adaptability for the work of the office which he seeks, regardless of party or politics, for the business of the town requires the best men that are available.

Judge Madigan Entered

Judge and Mrs. John B. Madigan returned home on Thursday last from Washington where he went with the other St. John River Commissioners to deliver their report.

On his return he was one of the speakers at the banquet of the New England alumni of Georgetown university in Boston last week. Cardinal O'Connell, formerly Roman Catholic bishop of Portland, also gave one of the addresses. Associate Justice elect Madigan graduated from Georgetown university in the class of 1883 and some years after received from the university the honorary degree of master of arts.

He also stopped in Augusta where on Wednesday he qualified before Governor Curtis and his council.

Banquet at Snell House

In recognition of the honor conferred on one of our leading citizens, the Aroostook County Bar gave a dinner to Hon. John B. Madigan at the Snell House on Thursday evening.

There were representatives present from every section of the county 40 members sitting down to the tables, the menu and service furnished by Landlord Marriott being perfect in every respect. The menu cards were very appropriate containing an autograph photo of the guest of honor.

Hon. E. A. Powers presided over the postprandial exercises and the speeches were all of an interesting nature, brilliant as well as along a lighter vein, and were finished about 1 A. M.

Operetta by Eighth Grade Student's

The two act operetta, "The Isle of Chance" given on Friday evening by pupils of the Eighth Grade was largely attended and liberally applauded.

The leading character parts were very nicely handled, while the singing and dancing of the chorus was all that could be desired and showed much careful training.

Entertainments of this character are of much benefit to the pupils. It gives them confidence, it tends to bring out some undeveloped talent and provides for them a change from the grind of study, and incidentally the proceeds of these entertainments provide funds for graduation exercises.

Following is the cast of characters: King Geo. D. Davis, Captain Lloyd H. Borrie, First Folley Dawn E. McIntyre, Second Folley Marion E. Fowler, Third Folley Helen A. Yerxa, On-A-Grouch Philip B. Churchill, Despair Fred R. Rother, Lord What's The Use Hollis Jones, Lady Frivolous Madeline Peabody, Simplicita Della Russell.

SAILORS Who Cares, Herschell Bull; Few Cares, Almond Gilbert; No Cares, Harold M. Fowler.

Humorous Fact of History.

The enactment of the law of habeas corpus marks an important epoch in the progress of civil liberty in England, and is regarded as one of the great achievements of Charles the Second's reign. Charles himself did not want the law, but just at the time he was very anxious to curry favor with the people, and was afraid to oppose so popular a measure. The friends and foes of the act were pretty evenly divided in parliament, but in the final vote it was carried. The manner of its passage, however, was both comical and illegal. While the voting was going on a very fat lord arose and asked that his vote be recorded in the affirmative. In a spirit of fun the clerk announced ten votes for him, to accord with his great size. They were so recorded, and for some unexplained reason the "error" was never corrected. The stranger part of it is, the majority for the measure was less than ten; hence it would have failed of passage without the fat lord's extra votes.

DANDY HANDY UNITED STATES CREAM SEPARATOR

HAVING the handy things—and the things handy—will put a cheerful grin into what would otherwise be a gloomy grind.

DID you ever stop to think that taking a few less steps each day means saving many weary miles in life's long way.

THERE are about "forty-seven" cream separators, according to "vital" statistics; but in my opinion, there's only one cream separator that is built with the express purpose of saving space, time, energy, steps and temper.

THE U. S. IS A CONVENIENT MACHINE

United States Cream Separators can be driven from either side. That's HANDY because it allows the machine to be set in any corner of the room.

United States Cream Separators have self-draining bowls and these are HANDY, for they save slopping and dropping, and strains on tired arms.

United States Cream Separators take up little floor space, and the bases are all open. That makes them HANDY to clean under.

United States Cream Separators, with square supply cans, make it possible to place all parts to be washed in the square can, the whole being easy to carry under one arm, leaving the other free to carry the cream. That is so very HANDY that it saves two entire round trips between dairy and wash sink every day.

United States Cream Separators do not have to be started with hot water. You don't have to be told how HANDY that feature is.

United States Cream Separators being always in gear, start instantly from any point, with no jerk or jump, and without any preliminary hand oiling. The oil feeds perfectly, even in the coldest weather, and that's HANDY too!

United States Cream Separators have just a few parts in the skimming bowls, and these are cleaned, sterilized and dried in a Mechanical Washer. That certainly is HANDY when you consider the two-score-and-more parts which must be hand washed in the dice type of separators.

You Will Notice Many Other HANDY Points When Using the U. S. Separator.

IT WOULD BE HANDY FOR ME to leave a United States Cream Separator at your place next week. Let me know how much milk you want to skim each day and I'll figure out the size you need. Business is rushing! Don't put off ordering any longer.

Willard Houlton Putnam

Houlton citizens are again called upon to mourn the loss of her son, a direct descendant of one of the early settlers of the town.

Willard Houlton Putnam, whose death occurred Sunday, was the son of the late Jay S. and Betsy Putnam. He was born Aug. 8, 1842 and has always lived here on the old homestead on North St. By occupation he was a farmer which has been successfully carried on during many years.

In 1886 he was married to Mary L. Ward and to this union three children were born, who are still living. Probably no man in this section was better known or enjoyed a larger acquaintance than did "Bill" Putnam as he was familiarly called by old and young.

Of a most genial disposition he made friends wherever he went, and his friendships were of the lasting kind. During his life he has seen many changes in the town which has steadily grown from a small village to a bustling up-to-date town.

Mr. Putnam has been the victim of many serious ill spells during the past few years, but his strong constitution enabled him to throw off the disease, and during his last illness his friends and family hope for the best, until the end which came suddenly on Sunday.

In all his work of the past 15 years he has been ably assisted by his son Walter who, upon attaining manhood, greatly lightened the burdens and cares of his daily work.

He is survived by a widow and three children: Mrs. Alice L. Moody, Mrs. Ida J. Wakefield and Walter K. Putnam.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Geo. Dana Sanders of the Unitarian church, which were largely attended by friends and neighbors. Many Grange members were present to pay their last respects to their departed brother. Burial was made in Evergreen cemetery.

Morris Hanagan is in Boston, attending the Auto show.

Cards, in cases, at half price at Pearson's.

Mrs. Frank Slocum, accompanied by her head trimmer, returned, Thursday, from the Boston Millinery openings.

The ladies of the Congregational Guild will hold a sale of useful and fancy articles at the vestry on March 19.

The senior class of the Houlton High School will serve a supper at the F. B. Church Vestry on Wednesday evening of this week to which the public is cordially invited.

Christian Science services held each Sunday at 11 A. M., at residence of Addison Smith, 32 High street. Next Sunday subject, "Substance." All are welcome.

The regular monthly supper of the Meduxnekeag Club will be held at the Club house on Thursday evening at 6 o'clock. Mrs. O. A. Hodgins is chairman of the committee.

Announcement

After April 1st, Dr. Parker M. Ward will limit his practice exclusively to diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat and to the fitting of glasses.

At the urgent request of my friends and business men of the town, I wish to announce that I shall be a candidate for the office of first selectman at the coming town meeting.

I base my claim for your support for this office on my experience along these lines in other towns, where I have lived, and if elected will devote my best efforts to the economical administration of the town's affairs.

Yours respectfully,

Fred N. Vose

To Our Friends

Advertising is a subject to which few readers give sufficient thought, and yet it is of vital importance to them considered from an educational standpoint alone.

Do you realize that men are paid from $10,000 to $50,000 a year for their ability to write advertising copy?

You will find some of this splendid ability shown in the columns of the AROOSTOOK TIMES, and we wish to impress upon you the fact that there is a interesting, instructive and beneficial reading to be found in our advertising columns.

Of course we know there are a lot of subjects discussed there that may not interest every reader; on the other hand, there is not an issue that does not contain an advertisement that will give you some new idea, add to your comfort, and in all probability save you money. Take for instance the unusually fine advertisement published this week by the Houlton Grange Store, about United States Cream Separators. It is to your interest that you pay some attention to advertising columns.

In the advertising columns you find the story of the world's commercial progress. Ninety per cent of all the new inventions are first brought to public notice through advertising.

We want every reader to take an interest in the advertisements appearing in the AROOSTOOK TIMES, because they help to provide the financial support of this paper. All these advertisers are first class business concerns which have been investigated, and are guaranteed by the publisher. Buy the goods whenever you can; it will be appreciated by us if you mention this paper.

New England's Finest Barn is Covered with Certain-teed Slate Surfaced Asphalt Shingles

No expense was spared by the owner of this imposing structure to make it easily the finest in New England from the standpoints of conveniences, ventilation, solidity, strength and cleanliness.

It is 220 feet long, with wings at right angles forming a cross 170 feet in length.

In erecting such a fine structure it is little wonder that a most exhaustive examination of the many roofings on the market was made before deciding what should be used.

Certain-teed

are far superior to wood shingles because they are absolutely weatherproof, last longer, look better, do not need painting and are a safeguard against fires caused from falling sparks.

CERTAIN-TEED Slate Surfaced Asphalt Shingles are recommended by leading architects and builders for residences, club houses, sea shore homes and all other buildings having inclined roofs. They are artistic in appearance and add an attractive finishing touch. There is no waste in laying as every shingle is perfect and uniform.

CERTAIN-TEED Slate Surfaced Asphalt Shingles are made from the very best quality roofing felt which is thoroughly saturated with the General's own blend of soft asphalt, and then coated with a harder blend of asphalt which prevents the soft saturation from drying out. The material is then heavily surfaced with GENUINE crushed slate in natural colors of red or green.

If you contemplate building any type of structure ask your dealer to supply you with further information about CERTAIN-TEED Shingles, guaranteed for ten years by the world's largest manufacturers of roofing and building papers.

Will Any Other Car Stand This Usage?

One Reo Dealer habitually pulls off this stunt in demonstrating a Reo car to a prospective buyer

He Drives 15 Miles per hour ahead—and shifts in his reverse gears!

Does the Reo Stand It? Well he says he has used the same demonstrating car for a year now—done the trick hundreds (he estimates thousands) of times—and gears are today just as silent and apparently just as good as ever. So is the clutch.

But After All it isn't so wonderful when you consider how Reo cars are made.

"50 Per Cent Oversize" in all vital parts—that includes shafts and gears of course—makes the best possible. Would, even if he hadn't the velvet Reo clutch.

That Doubles the factor of safety, for the you drop the Reo clutch instantly, still there's no jerk. It takes hold softly—but holds when once fully engaged.

So If You Are the one to whom he is demonstrating the Reo car, sitting beside him, you are surprised to find there's no jerk, no apparent strain when he does it.

Car Seems to come to a gradual, tho a quick, stop; then so softly reverses.

But We Don't believe there is another automobile on earth that will stand it—none but Reo.

And the Reason is in Reo design, Reo material and Reo construction.

By the Way—let us remind you that the appreciation of Reo quality—Reo value—is so general, the factory is always away behind orders. So it is necessary to place your order long before you want a delivery.

Don't Delay—Today won't be a minute too soon.

TWO BANDS OF GOD'S HEROES

Hebrews 11:1-12:1 March 12.

Faith Heroes of the Jewish Age—Faith Heroes of the Gospel Age—The House of Servants—The House of Sons. Earthly Promises—Heavenly Promises—Resurrection to Perfect Human Nature—Resurrection to Divine Nature—The Christian Race Course.

"Let us with patience run the race that is set before us, looking unto Jesus, the Author and Finisher of our faith."—Hebrews 12:2.

THE Bible puts faith before works, because no works can be acceptable to God unless inspired by faith. (Hebrews 11:6.) The Bible brings to our attention two distinct classes of Faith Heroes, both pleasing to God and both to be highly rewarded by Him. One of these classes preceded Jesus' day; the other follows His day. The first class are therefore known as the Ancient Worthies; the latter class, with Jesus as their Head, are styled the Sons of God. This distinction or division of God's servants, although clearly marked in the Scriptures, has been overlooked by the Lord's people until recent years.

No matter how faithful or loyal Enoch, Abraham, David, Jeremiah, etc., were, they could not be recognized by God as members of the House of Sons, because they lived before Jesus tasted death for every man. Adam was recognized as a son of God. (Luke 3:38.) From the time that sin entered the world through Adam's disobedience, God recognized none of the human family as His sons. "All were sinners," until Jesus came and died "the just for the unjust," that He might bring us back to God and open to us the door of sonship.

In Hebrews 2:5, 6 the distinction is clearly marked between the noble brethren before the Cross, the last of whom was John the Baptist, and the noble brethren since the Cross, the first of whom were the Apostles. That John the Baptist was the last of the Ancient Worthies is attested by the Master—Luke 7:28.

Two Sets of Promises.

St. Paul makes this distinction between the Ancient Worthies and the Christian Worthies in today's lesson. After naming many of the prominent ones of the past, he declares that they were pleasing to God, noble, praise-worthy, because of their faith. "Then he calls attention to the fact that they never received the promises which God made to them. Prior to Jesus' day God did not promise heavenly things. The promises to the Ancient Worthies were all earthly; as that made to Abraham in Genesis 12:14-17.

St. Stephen calls attention to the fact that this promise to Abraham is still unfulfilled. He declares that Abraham never received enough of that land promised him to set his foot upon. On this promise he predicated the resurrection of Abraham, that in God's due time he may inherit the land and that his faithful posterity will inherit it after him—Acts 7:5.

On the other hand, the New Testament promises are only spiritual—"Heavenly promises," "things above." The Christian Worthies are promised a share with Jesus in the Heavenly Kingdom which He is to establish at His Second Coming. They are to be His joint-heirs, a Kingdom of Priests, a Royal Priesthood; while the promise to the Ancient Worthies is that they shall be made "princes in all the earth." (Romans 8:17; 1 Peter 2:9; Revelation 20:6; Psalm 45:16.) The Christian Heroes are to have a change from human nature to Divine, the beginning of this change being the Holy Spirit begetting in the present time, and its completion being that of the resurrection. (1 Corinthians 15:42-44.) But the Ancient Worthies, not receiving the begetting of the Holy Spirit to a new nature, will have a different resurrection—to human perfection.

In Verses 39 and 40 St. Paul contrasts these two classes of Faith Heroes.

The Christian Race Course.

In the two closing verses of today's Study the Apostle addresses the Church. He would have us consider the Ancient Worthies—what they endured, how faithful and loyal they were. How would have us consider them as though they were a cloud of witnesses, watching us, to whom has been given this still greater privilege of becoming sons of God on the Divine plane—John 1:12; 2 Peter 1:4.

He pictures before us a great race-course, in which we are runners. He pictures Jesus as the Leader gone before, as the One through whom we have entered the race and who has promised us grace sufficient. He pictures Jesus' loyalty and the Father's faithfulness in highly rewarding Jesus, seating Him at the right hand of the Majesty on High. Then he urges us to run perseveringly and patiently; for only such as attain the character-likeness of their Leader in this narrow way may hope to share His glory.—Romans 8:29.

What Children Need Now

In spite of the best care mothers can give their children, they are often sickly. Mrs. T. Neuner, Eau Claire, Wis., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar cured my boy of a severe attack of croup after other remedies had failed. It is a wonderful remedy for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. It stops laryngeal coughs. Sold Everywhere."

Treatment of Pneumonia

This is the height of the pneumonia season. The number of deaths from pneumonia in March will be double the average number for October. Pneumonia is caused by:

- (a)—Contagion from pneumonia cases and pneumonia carriers.
- (b)—Getting drunk or near drunk.
- (c)—Overeating and staying in crowded, overheated places.
- (d)—Getting overtired.
- (e)—Getting chilled.

Many people know these five causes of pneumonia and the ways to avoid them, but in spite of knowing, will develop the disease. Pneumonia will not be wiped out this March nor next. Therefore, how shall pneumonia be treated?

Dr. Boyard gives the following advice in the New York Health News: First, the man with pneumonia must have plenty of cold, fresh, moving air. He says: "For many years now in the Presbyterian Hospital we have treated nearly all our pneumonia patients in an open air ward upon the roof." The patient's head is protected by a woolen cap. His body is well covered, and he is placed where fresh air can blow straight over his face. If the patient cannot be carried to the roof ward his bed is pushed up to an open window. The result is that the sick man breathes easier, sleeps better, and is generally more comfortable. While pneumonia patients given plenty of fresh air feel better the main reason for thinking the treatment beneficial is the effect on blood pressure. A falling blood pressure in the course of pneumonia is a bad sign. When a pneumonia patient is carried from a warm room to an open air ward his blood pressure rises 10 to 20 points.

Second, pneumonia patients must have absolute rest. They must go to bed and stay there. To get up to use the toilet is to invite sudden death. He should be allowed to lie in whatever position is most comfortable. He must not be "nursed to death" by the nurse, nor "examined to death" by the physician. The less he talks and the less he moves the better will be his chance of getting well. The nearer he comes to lying quietly in bed like a hibernating alligator the better off he will be.

Third, feeding must be very carefully regulated and the bowels must be attended to. Probably the best way to attend to the bowels is to give a daily enema. Cathartics do not work well with people sick with pneumonia.

Exceeding care must be exercised to give the sick man as much food as he can use and not a bit more.

The treatment of the symptoms of pneumonia and of the disease itself by medicines is a matter to be left to the physician. No general laws can be laid down. What would help one would hurt another. To discuss the subject here would do good and might do harm.

The fight for life of a person with pneumonia is at best a hard struggle. The person who is forced to make it should have the help of the best nurses and the best physicians available for him. But, above all, he needs the help of a sound body. As Dr. MacLaren says in the "Roumie Brier Bush": "He hasna abused nature and nature willna fail him in his o' need."

Particular as to Diet.

De Quency, the writer, during the last 30 years of his life invariably made his dinner of a slice of mutton and a dish of rice. He insisted that the cook cut his meat in a diagonal rather than a longitudinal form, declaring that "otherwise consequences inculcably distressing to my system will arise and prevent me from attending to matters of overwhelming importance."

To Clean Brass.

To clean brass flower pots or traps rub them with a piece of lemon; then pour boiling water over them, and finally polish with a soft, dry cloth.

Remembered.

"The only visit I have paid to the old home town since I left it, 17 years ago," stated Sissors Smith, "proved a great disappointment. The only man who recognized me, after I had wandered for hours around the familiar streets, beneath the drooping ellums and all such as that, was old Uncle Riley Rezzidew, who knew me the minute he set eyes on me by a debt of six bits which he claimed I had owed him when I went away."—Kansas City Star.
